Playing Instructions	This is a physical game that can be played indoors and outdoors, between a small (5+) or large group of people. Everyone stands in a circle, you have to have two volunteers, one has to be the "evil dictator" and the other one as the "bodyguard". The bodyguard's job is to protect the evil dictator from getting hit by the ball. The two volunteers stand in the middle of the circle. The members that form the circle have to start throwing the ball, aiming to hit the dictator whilst the bodyguard can touch the ball all he/she wants as long as they protect the dictator. The person that hits the dictator becomes the new bodyguard, and the bodyguard becomes the dictator. This switch needs to happen fast, as the people forming the circle can start throwing the ball immediately.
