The District

In 1909, a year after the Malta Boys Scout Association was formed, it had its first Scout Commissioner. By 1918 there were two Districts "A" and "B", and by the year 1935 there were seven Districts namely; Eastern, Central, North Eastern, South Eastern, Western, South and Gozo. At that time there were eight District Commissioners, nine District Scout Masters and eight District Cub Masters, with forty active Groups. In 1937 the Association was reorganised in nine Districts which were; Aard Wolf, Acorn, Albatross, Bee, Cottonera, Diamond (later Peacock), Gozo, Griffin and Oak. Another reorganisation took place in 1964 and the Districts were reduced to five, which were; Central, City, Gozo, North and South. Two years later the City District was integrated with the Central District and the districts became as they are known today.
